The dynamic curation emphasizes the traits that make HG Contemporary most distinct: bright colors, special techniques, and exciting modern references-- all executed in the most refined manner. Natvar Bhavsar’s grand pigment technique informs Tim Bengel’s sand-to-metal, while Dan Eldon’s depictions of a war-torn Kenya harmonize with McCrow’s guns and bullets pieces, both crying out for peace. The artwork list includes blue-chip pieces from a private collection, contemporary favorites which haven’t been shown in years, as well as some exciting new pieces from a recent exhibition at our gallery in Madrid.
